

The Journal OF THE House of Representatives

Number 40

Wednesday, April 30, 2014

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 11:00 a.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by Dr. Mark McNees of Element 3 Church, upon invitation of Rep. Beshears:

Dear God, thank You for these men and women who represent the citizens of the great state of Florida. I pray that You grant them discernment that surpasses their experience, education, and natural intellect. I request that You grant them the vision to see beyond situational symptoms and the fortitude to resolve the cause. I petition that You make them wise as serpents, but gentle as doves. And, finally, I besiege Thee to grant these representatives the courage to lead with excellence, negotiate for the good of all Floridians, to not settle for just good, but have the audacity to demand greatness for our state, our country, our world. May integrity, the rule of law, and the Constitution be their guide and that the result of their relentless pursuit of a more fair, just, and prosperous state not only be for the benefit of today's citizens, but the legacy of these representatives will be a precious gift given to Floridians for generations to come. I echo our state's motto, in God we trust. Amen.

REPRESENTATIVE HOOPER IN THE CHAIR

CS/SJR 1188—A joint resolution proposing amendments to Sections 10 and 11 of Article V of the State Constitution to authorize the Governor to prospectively fill vacancies in certain judicial offices.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Florida:

That the following amendments to Sections 10 and 11 of Article V of the State Constitution are agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of this state for approval or rejection at the next general election or at an earlier special election specifically authorized by law for that purpose:

ARTICLE V JUDICIARY

SECTION 10. Retention; election and terms.—

(a) Any justice or judge may qualify for retention by a vote of the electors in the general election next preceding the expiration of the justice's or judge's term in the manner prescribed by law. When ¶ a justice or judge is ineligible for retention or fails to qualify for retention, a prospective vacancy is deemed to occur at the conclusion of the qualifying period for retention for the purpose of appointing a successor justice or judge, and a vacancy shall exist in that office upon the expiration of the term being served by the justice or judge. When a justice or judge so qualifies, the ballot shall read substantially as follows: "Shall Justice (or Judge) ...(name of justice or judge)... of the ...(name of the court)... be retained in office?" If a majority of the qualified electors voting within the territorial jurisdiction of the court vote to retain, the justice or judge shall be retained for a term of six years. The term of the justice or judge retained shall commence on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January following the general election. If a majority of the qualified electors voting within the territorial jurisdiction of the court vote to not retain, a prospective vacancy is deemed to occur immediately following the general election for the purpose of appointing a successor justice or judge, and a vacancy shall exist in that office upon the expiration of the term being served by the justice or judge.

(b)(1) The election of circuit judges shall be preserved notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) unless a majority of those voting in the jurisdiction of that circuit approves a local option to select circuit judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election. The election of circuit judges shall be by a vote of the qualified electors within the territorial jurisdiction of the court.

(2) The election of county court judges shall be preserved notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) unless a majority of those voting in the jurisdiction of that county approves a local option to select county judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election. The election of county court judges shall be by a vote of the qualified electors within the territorial jurisdiction of the court.

(3)a. A vote to exercise a local option to select circuit court judges and county court judges by merit selection and retention rather than by election shall be held in each circuit and county at the general election in the year 2000. If a vote to exercise this local option fails in a vote of the electors, such option shall not again be put to a vote of the electors of that jurisdiction until the expiration of at least two years.

b. After the year 2000, a circuit may initiate the local option for merit selection and retention or the election of circuit judges, whichever is applicable, by filing with the custodian of state records a petition signed by the number of electors equal to at least ten percent of the votes cast in the circuit in the last preceding election in which presidential electors were chosen.

c. After the year 2000, a county may initiate the local option for merit selection and retention or the election of county court judges, whichever is applicable, by filing with the supervisor of elections a petition signed by the number of electors equal to at least ten percent of the votes cast in the county in the last preceding election in which presidential electors were chosen. The terms of circuit judges and judges of county courts shall be for six years.

SECTION 11. Vacancies.—

(a)(1) Whenever a vacancy occurs in a judicial office to which election for retention applies, the governor shall fill the vacancy by appointing for a term ending on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next general election occurring at least one year after the date of appointment, one of not fewer than three persons nor more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission.

(2) Whenever a prospective vacancy occurs in a judicial office for which election for retention applies, the governor shall fill the prospective vacancy by appointing a justice or judge from among at least three persons but not more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. The term of the appointment commences upon the expiration of the term of the office being vacated and ends on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next general election.

(b) The governor shall fill each vacancy on a circuit court or on a county court, wherein the judges are elected by a majority vote of the electors, by appointing for a term ending on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January of the year following the next primary and general election occurring at least one year after the date of appointment, one of not fewer than three persons nor more than six persons nominated by the appropriate judicial nominating commission. An election shall be held to fill that judicial office for the term of the office beginning at the end of the appointed term.

(c) The nominations shall be made within thirty days from the occurrence of a vacancy or prospective vacancy unless the period is extended by the governor for a time not to exceed thirty days. The governor shall make the appointment within sixty days after the nominations have been certified to the governor.

(d) There shall be a separate judicial nominating commission as provided by general law for the supreme court, each district court of appeal, and each judicial circuit for all trial courts within the circuit. Uniform rules of procedure shall be established by the judicial nominating commissions at each level of the court system. Such rules, or any part thereof, may be repealed by general law enacted by a majority vote of the membership of each house of the legislature, or by the supreme court, five justices concurring. Except for deliberations of the judicial nominating commissions, the proceedings of the commissions and their records shall be open to the public.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the following statement be placed on the ballot:

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

ARTICLE V, SECTIONS 10, 11

PROSPECTIVE APPOINTMENT OF CERTAIN JUDICIAL VACANCIES.—Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution requiring the Governor to prospectively fill vacancies in a judicial office to which election for retention applies resulting from the justice's or judge's reaching the mandatory retirement age or failure to qualify for a retention election; and allowing prospective appointments if a justice or judge is not retained at an election. Currently, the Governor may not fill an expected vacancy until the current justice's or judge's term expires.

Presentation of Members' Gift to the Speaker

The Speaker pro tempore recognized Rep. Holder to approach the well.

Rep. Holder: Speaker, it is with great honor and pride today that I present to you a gift from your colleagues in the House. Mr. Speaker, we can all agree, all of us, that you are a man of principle, a man of compassion, and a true servant to this House and to our state. On the first day of session, you gave us a gift, an admonition, and a promise. The gift was a clock, symbolizing the short time that we have together. The admonition was make every second count. We have all watched our clocks tick down together and have been reminded of your counsel to this body when you first took the gavel. But, Speaker, you also closed with a vision. You said that if we could rise above our own interests and our own agendas, together we could accomplish great things. I think we can all agree that you are good on that promise. And, therefore, Mr. Speaker, it is now our time to give you a gift and a promise. Please accept this gift and open it up. [applause]

Following the Presentation of the Members' Gift to the Speaker, Sergeant at Arms staff members hung the Speaker's portrait in the Chamber.

Remarks of the Speaker

Speaker Weatherford: Thank you. It's been a tremendous honor to be a member of this Chamber and to be Speaker of this House, and I have to give the glory to God for this opportunity. And if you'd have told me ten years ago, Mr. President, that I would ever be standing in this Chamber—because that was the first time I walked in here was ten years ago as a legislative aide—that I would ever be in this Chamber as a member, much less as Speaker of the House I would have never, ever, believed you. To see a dream like that come true has been just an amazing honor to me, and I see that wall and I see the people on that wall and having worked for one Speaker and served three others, to be able to follow them in history and to be a part of the history of this Chamber is an honor that I certainly don't have words to express. But I learned everything I knew I in politics from the first speaker that I worked for, and I continue to grow with the three others, and Allan, I just want you to know, Mr. Speaker, thank you for setting the gold standard for me of what it takes to be a leader in this Chamber. You are the gold standard, my friend. [applause]

I'd also like to thank my family. Not all of my eight brothers and sisters could be here, you could probably appreciate that. We have logistical problems in the Weatherford household, but our family as I've said on this floor many times before, is a very tight knit family. We stand up for each other, we care for each other. It's a lot like the Florida House. And we had a lot of controlled chaos growing up kind of like the Florida House. But I could not have asked for a more god-fearing mother and father, parents who instilled in me this desire to strive for public service and to find ways to contribute to your fellow man. And at a very young age, my mother, having homeschooled me until the sixth grade, decided that she was going to make sure that there were fundamental values that I would have as a young man and that hopefully I would carry forward into my adulthood. And, Mom, I don't know if I've lived up to the expectation that you had for me, but both you and Dad did a wonderful job raising nine children and I'm forever indebted to you. I love you so much. Thank you for being here. [applause]

To my three little girls Ella, Molly, and Madeline, who had a really hard time standing still up here, that's a lot like it is in our house. They are just the light of my life. Ella, you like my chair over there, honey? Yeah? Your daddy loves you very much. And I'm also very excited about our fourth addition that is coming and so we may not break any Weatherford records, but we're certainly going to have four kids and I am going to get my boy. So I'm excited about that. [applause] And of course the most important person in my life, my wife, Courtney, who you know was mentioned earlier, I don't know, honey, if you were on the floor or watching from the gallery, but Representative Hooper had stated that we have a system in the Weatherford family that we have one child every term which is true, so I came in here with no children, as you know, and we're going to leave with four and we did one every single two years. But the sacrifice that you've made, honey, and the tough long nights, and the hardships that you've gone through to give me an opportunity to do this job, to give back, to serve with these amazing people. I can never thank you enough for that. I don't have a gift for that. Aside from my love for you, which is stronger than it's ever been. I love you. [applause]

Mr. President, it's an honor for you to be here today. What you and I had set forth to do almost two years ago in your small cottage house over in seaside, before you were President and I was Speaker, and we talked about the environment and the ecosystem we wanted to create as leaders of our chambers, and the fact that we could do things differently. And that we could hope that we could convince our members to rise above the normal bitterness and acrimony that seems to always stand in the way between two chambers. I could not have asked for a better partner. I could not have asked for a more successful two years with a person that wanted to put issues on the line, tell people what we were going to do, and then arm and arm with me, work exceptionally hard to do it. You are a great friend, you are a great leader of the Senate, and Florida is forever in your debt for your service. Thank you, sir. [applause]

And for all the members of the House and Senate and friends and family who are here, who took the time to be part of this, I'm very grateful for your presence. I would like to, with the members permission, to give my farewell remarks on Friday, because that's our last day. And I will just end it with this: the Florida House is a very, very special place. And the first time I walked in here I knew it, and I know the last time I walk out of here it will be just as special as when I first came in. And we have had an amazing run together. The members of us who came in, in 2006, and all the members who've come after that we've had a chance to serve with, and I just want you to know that the honor that is bestowed upon me by putting me on the wall with giants who have served this state, is one that is beyond anything I could ever say to you, but I'm so grateful. And it reminds me of my daughter, Ella. A couple of nights ago I was putting her to bed, in fact it was Tuesday night, and she said, "Daddy how much longer are you Speaker?" Speaker D, she was wondering too. [laughter] And I said, "well, honey, it's almost over. There's about three or four days left and then Daddy doesn't have to be Speaker anymore." And then she looked over, and she looked at me, and she said, "I feel like you've been speaker for a long time. [laughter] I think it's probably time to end it." [laughter] So, Ella, you're right, it is time. And I just want you all to know that I care for you, I've been honored by you today, and I'm really grateful to have this opportunity to be the Speaker of the House. Thank you very much.

REPRESENTATIVE HOOPER IN THE CHAIR

Rep. Hooper recognized Speaker pro tempore Coley for remarks.

Speaker pro tempore Coley: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As we view the installed portrait of our beloved Speaker—I think we can say that because he certainly is. Mr. Speaker, I've known you as an aide to Speaker Bense. I've watched you get married to your beautiful wife, Courtney. I've had the pleasure of getting to know your beautiful daughters, Ella Kate, Molly Marie, and Madelyn Starr, and I eagerly anticipate meeting the young man Weatherford on his arrival. But you are such a great role model for young men to follow. Proverbs 22:1 says, "A good name is to be chosen rather than great riches, and favor is better than silver or gold." Will Weatherford, your name is good. We are proud of you and we'll reflect on the time of your speakership as one that was conducted fairly and honorably. God bless you and your family. [applause]
